Youth Council-adult "think" tank

Dear Friends,

I never tire of the opportunity to say thank you to so many people; the adults who help with teaching, special projects, events and planning, and students who whole heartedly participate and promote good Christian activities. But what I am especially thankful for this year is the good manners of our students. I believe that a great sign of being a Christian through and through is a person who demonstrates good manners. Good manners promote good relationships which demonstrates the Christian quality of caring. There are so many students in our church who demonstrate good manners all the time. Our students say thank you for the meals and transportation that is given for our many activities. One individual student is a standout, good mannered individual; Nick Thum. Nick is a really super example of a very polite young man. Nick is currently an 8th grader and involved in our Confirmation classes. He has participated for many years in our drama team, where his hard work has helped raise funds assisting our Sr. High students in their ASP goals. Nick never fails to say thank you. And there are more examples of well mannered young people in our church. Some of you may be surprised to learn just how helpful your children are! Last summer during our mission trip, there were times when other teams couldn't get their chores done and our kids would jump in and volunteer for extra chores!!! When someone is in need of friendship, I have seen and heard about our kids reaching out with a friendly and understanding hand. Lots of good manners and helpful hearts. All of which we celebrate at Thanksgiving. And I am very thankful this Thanksgiving for all of you! Amy
